On November 20th, 2023, the Red Ribbon Club, NSS, and the Department of Zoology joined hands to conduct an invigorating and thought-provoking debate competition as part of the World AIDS Day celebrations. The competition, centered around the crucial topic of "The Role of Students in Preventing HIV Infection," witnessed enthusiastic participation from 20 students across various disciplines.

The event was graced by esteemed judges, Sri B.R.K Kishore, Lecturer in Zoology, and Smt. Vasanthi Nandakumar, Lecturer in English, whose expertise and discernment added depth to the competition.

The contestants exhibited exceptional eloquence and knowledge, articulating insightful perspectives on the proactive involvement of students in curbing the spread of HIV. Their impassioned speeches underscored the significance of education, awareness, and community engagement in addressing this global health concern.

After a riveting display of arguments and compelling discourse, the winners emerged:

First Prize: B. Shalem Raju, I B.Sc (Chemistry Major)

Second Prize: G. Ajay Kumar, III B.Sc (BZC)

Their remarkable articulation and comprehensive understanding of the topic earned them well-deserved accolades.

The event served as a platform to ignite discussions and raise awareness about the pivotal role students play in combating HIV/AIDS. It encouraged proactive engagement and emphasized the power of informed youth in effecting positive change.

This event marked a successful inauguration to the series of activities planned in honor of World AIDS Day, setting a high standard for the impactful initiatives that followed.

The Red Ribbon Club, NSS, and the Department of Zoology extend their heartfelt gratitude to all participants, judges, and attendees for their fervent involvement in making this event a
