BRIEF DESCRIPTION:

Principal Dr.K Srinivasarao garu Presided over to he said that . Human Rights Day is observed and celebrated on 10th December every year worldwide. It is on this day in the year 1948, the United Nations acknowledged and proclaimed in their General Assembly to observe the celebration of human rights. Other states and interested organisations who also work for safeguarding human rights and ending the violations were extended the invitations. And the work actively started in the year 1950.

Academic Co-Ordinator K R Kishore Behera said that The Indian body that works extensively in this regard with the United Nations is NHRC (National Human Rights Commission).It was formed following the Principles of Paris.NHRC also abides by the ideologies of the Protection of Human Rights Act (PHRA) stated by the Government of India. The primary objective is to keep safe from discrimination with regards to any type of differences like race, religion, caste, and creed.

N S S Co-Ordinator D.Sivaphanidra said that The rights are basic and universal like the right to life, free from discrimination, torture, slavery, and degrading treatment. Any type of violation is a harm and threat to humankind and each step taken in the direction to protect these rights is in the interest of peace which is the need of the hour.
